

LBBC's mission is to connect people with trusted breast cancer information and a community of support.

History

In 1991, very limited or inadequate resources existed for women who had completed primary treatment for breast cancer.

To address this, an organization was created where women could connect with each other to share accurate and easy-to-understand information in a supportive and caring environment. That place is Living Beyond Breast Cancer (LBBC). Since that time, LBBC has grown into the country's most reliable organization that addresses the needs of all individuals who have been diagnosed with any stage of breast cancer.

Living Beyond Breast Cancer works with the world's top medical experts to continuously survey the changing landscape of breast cancer treatment and care. The information learned from this interaction informs new and existing resources to help people navigate the course of their disease.

How We Work

LBBC services are available in formats to accommodate the ways in which different people prefer to obtain information.

Online

In print

By phone

In person

Impact

In 2015, LBBC touched the lives of more than 540,000 people impacted by a breast cancer diagnosis.

If you have questions or concerns about a breast cancer diagnosis, LBBC can help.